Preliminary Screening

Following the submission deadline, eligible Entries may undergo a preliminary screening process ("Preliminary Screening") using automated evaluation tools, including artificial intelligence ("AI"), to assess Entries against the Contest judging criteria applicable to Round One. Based on the results of the Preliminary Screening, Red Hat may determine which Entries advance to Round One.

Round One

Round One will take place beginning on or about January 4, 2027 and ending on or about January 29, 2027. During Round One, Entries will be rated and ranked by the Judges based on the judging criteria set forth below.

Using a scoring range from 1-5, with 1 being the lowest (least impactful, transformative, innovative, etc.) and 5 being the highest (most impactful, transformative, innovative, etc.), each judge will review each nomination across each of the following criteria:

- a) Business impact: Measurable impact to the customer's organization and their various lines of business, showing the return on investment benefits and metrics of improvements in cost, time, productivity, agility, automation, scalability, and performance. (30%)
- b) Partnership: Insight into how partnership with Red Hat helped drive forward the project, including details on if multiple partners were involved and how being a part of Red Hat's ecosystem was core to the project's success for the customer. (30%)
- c) Innovation factor: The uniqueness, innovative originality, and distinct vision for the project. (20%)
- d) Category relevance: Clear category relevance meaning the project includes the relevant products, solutions or services associated with the technology decision point represented by each category. (20%)

The highest-scoring Entries in each Category will be designated as "Finalists" and will advance to Round Two.

Round Two

Round Two will take place beginning on or about February 1, 2027 and ending on or about February 19, 2027. During Round Two, Finalists will undergo a final evaluation by the Judges based on the same judging criteria used in Round One. The highest-scoring Finalist in each Category will be selected as the Winner.

In the event of a tie, the Finalist that received the highest total score from the Judges in their rating of criteria (a) will be selected as the Winner. In the case of a further tie, the Finalist that received the highest total score from the Judges in their rating of criteria (b) will be selected as the Winner, and so on through criteria (d). In the case of a tie in the scores of all criteria, the tied Entrants will all be Winners.

We will notify You that the Entrant is a Winner by email on or about Friday, March 5, 2027.
